

NEWS FROM THE UNION FOR REFORM JUDAISM (URJ):

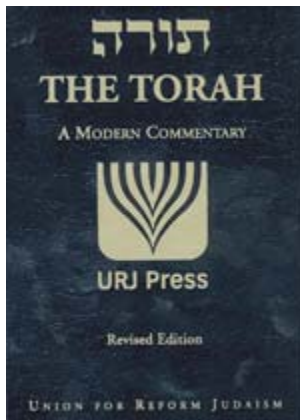

As a member congregation of the URJ, there are countless resources available to members of Temple Chaverim. In this edition of Connections, we offer you the following. Happy surfing!

Expanding Your Spiritual Knowledge: Resources on Worship

Want to learn more about our traditions and prayers? Looking for a way to expand your connection to Judaism? Have questions but don't know where to start looking for the answers? The Department of Worship, Music and Religious Living of the URJ has an extensive resource list to help you expand your spiritual knowledge. Check out <http://urj.org/worship/resources> for more information.

Plan to Take Action: Consultation on Conscience

Join Jewish leaders and activists in Washington, D.C. on April 15-17 for the 2007 Consultation on Conscience. Learn from key policy and government leaders about the issues that shape our lives, explore the connection between Jewish texts and current events, Learn more about the Consultation by visiting: <http://rac.org/confprog/consult>. If this kind of program interests you, perhaps you'll consider signing up for next year's consultation!

The Torah: A Modern Commentary, Travel Edition
Edited by W. Gunther Plaut Revised by David E.S. Stein The travel edition of The Torah: A Modern Commentary includes the full text of the revised edition in a size that is easy to transport. The reinforced paperback binding and smaller size is ideal for traveling and useful for students. Enjoy Torah study on the go, or give an affordable gift for confirmation or graduating students. Visit <http://urjbooksandmusic.com/ mailing/torah/index.html> to purchase yours today! Price: $30.00.

For more information, see Union for Reform Judaism <http://www.urj.org>.